

- Quick-launch toolbar
- Pre-arranged template notifications
- Issue emergency alerts and mass notifications in real-time

Quick-Launch Alert Toolbar

ExpressMsg is a quick-launch toolbar that streamlines and accelerates the alerting process for greater efficiency and improved response. Pre-arranged template notifications can be organized by message type, departments and site locations on a desktop window. This enables ExpressMsg users to issue emergency alerts and mass notifications in real-time with just a couple of clicks of the mouse.

Though useful for launching basic static alerts, ExpressMsg offers the necessary features to support more dynamic types of messaging, including user prompts for any additional details that need to accompany the alert. The most common alerts and notifications can be placed on the desktop as icons for more immediate access.